Another season gets underway

The new season got underway at Cippenham Table Tennis Centre over the August bank holiday weekend with the first events in the Cippenham Series. As its name implies, this is a series of events run throughout the season at Cippenham in a grand prix style. There are six weekends encompassing five senior, three junior and three veterans' tournaments. Points are awarded to each player for their performance in these individual events leading to the award of generous cash prizes, totalling over £1,500, to the most successful when the Series concludes in May next year.

Garth Kinlocke, ranked 18 in England, justified his top billing by winning the main event, the Men's Singles. Kinlocke was a late entry, taking the place of the withdrawn fourth seed and therefore a place in the middle of the draw. The top of the draw was thrown wide open by the non-arrival of top seed Umair Mauthoor and it was Dave Langham who profited most from this, winning his group and then coming back from 2-1 down to defeat Phil Goulding before meeting his match against Jonathan Hall in the quarter-final. Hall went on to lose his semi-final 3-1 against Kinlocke.

The bottom half of the draw saw the second and third seeds safely through the preliminary round groups. However, both fell to sixth seed Neil Wright as the Welsh-based player made his way into the final. Third seed, and Cippenham member, Rafique Sarhadi was the first to suffer at the hands of Wright. After a great win over seventh seed Hari Gehlot, who had earlier been relegated into second position in his group by Nick Brown, Rafi went down to Wright in the quarter-final. In the following round Wright went one better and saw off second seed Koji Hirota by an impressive 3-0 margin. The final, however, belonged to Hampshire's Kinlocke and Wright's run ended 11-7, 12-10, 11-6.

Another player to catch the eye was Frenchman Cedric Brion. Cedric joined Cippenham a few months ago after moving to Slough and now been signed up to play for us in the British League. Unranked in England, Cedric was unseeded but dispatched sixth seed Owen Clutterbuck in the groups, gained a bye in the first knock-out round and then secured his place in the quarter-final by beating Nathan Bingham. That, however, was the end of the road as he fell victim to Hirota.

The Women's Singles title was won by Charlotte Carey. The young Welsh girl has been successful in the past in junior events at Cippenham but this was her first senior title and was won against the seedings. Carey won her preliminary round group ahead of two higher ranked opponents in Sarah Hudson and Julie Furber. She then proceeded to beat Furber once more in the semi-final before getting the better, 3-1, of Ikue Humphrey in the final.

Reading's Hari Gehlot was the winner of the Veteran Men's Singles on Sunday. After winning his group and then despatching Lee Middleton and Steve Kerns, the second seed won the title with a straight-games victory over top seed Kevin Caldon in the final. Caldon had ended the challenge of Cippenham's Paul Baker in the quarters and then Paul Martindill in the semi-final. The latter had impressed in his group, relating Middleton to second spot, and defeated another higher-ranked player, fourth seed Mike Rhodes, in the quarters.

Cippenham's Sue Hayes, winner of all three Veteran Women's events last season had to settle for second place this time around. Janice Lee was the winner, winning all her five matches in a round-robin while Hayes also lost to Janet Brown. Brown, however, only won one other in a very competitive competition and finished in fifth place behind Denise Weller and Diane Melville on count-back.

The consolation events provided some cheer for Cippenham members. Jonathan Evans won the senior men's event, beating Pritesh Kakad in the final, while Denise Weller was runner-up to Chrissie Slot in the women's and Tony Stead likewise to Phil Goulding in the veteran men's.

The tournament was organized by Catherine Hayes, refereed by Mick Strode and attracted an entry of 92.

Team Selections

The teams to represent Cippenham in various leagues this coming season have virtually been finalized. These are listed below but are still subject to minor changes.

Senior British League

Cippenham is under no pretences that the forthcoming season will be a challenge for all three teams to obtain high finishing positions in the Senior British League, but the squad has defied the odds in recent seasons to impress - and relishes such challenges.

Squad 1, again competing in the strong Division 1 South, is pleased to announce the return of Robert Hansell after a couple of years absence gaining early career experience abroad. Congratulations go to up-and-rising Eddie Mitchell, who gains selection for the squad, although a pre-season foot injury sees him miss the first exchanges at Cippenham on 5 and 6 September. New Slough resident, Frenchman Cedric Brion takes over the number one squad position which should prove to be a great help as new fathers Mark Butler and Lee Dredge (congratulations to you both!) and Martin Adams (expecting his second in December) attempt to balance weekend table tennis commitments with family duties.

Squad 2 who finished strongly to allay any relegation worries from Division 1 South and Midlands last season shape up similarly with Martin Gray, Owen Clutterbuck, Steve Munson and Mark Jackson for the first weekend. Nick Brown, who has impressed in Welsh table tennis circles, becomes the newest recruit so we welcome him to the club. Cippenham stalwart David Hayes should also be available for selection.

The third squad, promoted by way of an impressive finish to their Division Three matches at the back end of the season, compete in Division 2 South and West. Martin Gray's brother Kevin will certainly strengthen the squad for the challenge ahead while Cippenham regulars Steve Buck, Paul Baker and Tony Stead take their places for the first weekend at Ashford.

We wish all three squads good luck for the season ahead.
